Despite Pope's Plea Berlin Sees no Present Peace Hope

(By United Press)
Amsterdam, Aug. 22—Berlin sees no present hope of peace despite the pope's plea, and dispatches from Berlin indicate this pessimistic view by the public, the claim being that the enemy war aims prove their desire to annihilate Germany, which is also the declaration of Chancellor Michaelis. Therefore no present desire for peace exists.

An Amsterdam socialist speaker declared that their party welcomed the pope's peace action.

DULUTH BOND DEALER GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

n the George A. Elder Case on Trial Before the District Court at the Court House

N. J. Upham had Visited Koochiching County and was Well Versed as to Valuations and Conditions

In the George A. Elder case, Duluth bond broker charged with trying to influence official actions County Treasurer Fogarty of Koochiching county, the defense introduced as first witness N. J. Upham, Duluth bond dealer.

He was followed Tuesday afternoon by Franz Jevne, county attorney Koochiching county, who testified that in the summer of 1915, before the alleged offense took place, he talked with Fogarty regarding the acceptance of certificates of deposit complained of in the indictment and Fogarty said he would like to take them instead of cash, being an advantage to the county, and if the certificates bore four per cent interest as they did, it would be a saving to the county of about $5,000, because banks of the northern part of the state had so much money it would be impossible to put much more in if the whole sum were paid in cash and he would have to deposit in city banks at two and three per cent and that if the public examiner would approve of that method of handling the proceeds of the bond sale, he would be very much pleased and suggested that Mr. Jevne take up the matter with the public examiner for his opinion.

That Jevne went to St. Paul at the request of Fogarty and submitted the matter to the public examiner and the public examiner orally approved the proposed action and later wrote the auditor to the same effect. That in the fall of 1915 he discussed the matter of commissions paid on the bond sale with Attorney General Smith, he (Jevne), thinking that the commissions were illegal and too high.

That Smith advised Jevne that the county could pay commissions to agents for the sale of bonds providing they acted in good faith and the commissions were reasonable and that on an issue of $765,000 drainage bonds where a great portion of land affected was state lands, the attorney general was of opinion it would be very difficult to dispose of bonds, that in his opinion liens against state lands were illegal and only a moral obligation existed on the state to pay its part. And that under such circumstances six per cent commission on the face of this issue was not unreasonable.

Jevne testified further that when it came to the adjustment of the interest complained of in the indictment, he interviewed Public Examiner Fritz with Elder as to the legality of deducting or accept one and one-half per cent from accrued interest and letting Elder get the benefit of it. That Jevne understood from interviews with the public examiner that the interest could be handled in the manner in which it was, namely allowing one and one-half per cent deduction from the bond rate, Elder agreeing to pay the accrued interest, and all outstanding warrants issued against the ditches affected by the bonds.

Jevne was satisfied now that he made a mistake writing that opinion regardless of the public examiner's attitude and that he should not have written the opinion or permitted settlement in that way.

Jevne was still on the stand at the close of Tuesday afternoon. Witnesses for the defense Wednesday will probably be J. A. Duffy of Red Lake Falls, associated with Elder in the $765,000 bond issue, followed likely by Elder himself.

Of interest in the George A. Elder case was the testimony given N. J. Upham, prominent Duluth real estate and bond dealer who was on the stand Tuesday forenoon and afternoon in direct examination by the defendant and cross-examination by John E. Palmer, assistant attorney general.

In the examination by Senator C. E. Adams for the defense, Upham testified as being experienced on the method of handling municipal bond transactions, the payment of commissions, and the division of commissions by broker with other brokers representing the final purchasers.

Upham had visited Koochiching county, knew its assessed valuation, population, the extent of state lands not subject to taxation, the amount of unimproved or unsettled lands, all having a strong bearing on the saleability of the bonds.

Bonds were classed in the bond markets of the east, said Mr. Upham, as high grade or low grade. High grade bonds were those of counties or cities having a population of 100,000 or more and assessed valuation running to $50,000,000 or more. Low grade bonds were those of smaller villages, townships, school districts and new and partially settled counties.

He testified as to the condition of the bond market right after the opening of the European war. He testified that high grade bonds fell off in sale value three or four per cent. Low grade bonds were affected a great deal more and in some cases became almost unsaleable.

From six to ten per cent was a reasonable agent's commission affecting the sale of Koochiching county bonds involved in the case so as to bring par and accrued interest to the county.

He testified further as to the payment of broker's commissions by the city of Duluth for the past twenty years, but on objection by the state was not allowed to testify as to specific commissions paid in particular transactions.

He also testified that the form of agency contract made by Koochiching county with Duffy and Elder was in common use among bond men and if no deception occurred in the making of it, he considered it legal and proper.

On cross-examination by Assistant Attorney General Palmer of the state, Upham was searchingly questioned as to his view of the propriety of an agent representing the county as seller and his own corporation as buyer as done by Duffy for the Farmers National bank of Red Lake Falls and Elder for the Commercial Investment company.

Upham admitted that an agent could not consistently and in good faith represent buyer and seller, if he was to sell and obtain the highest price obtainable, but he insisted that if the agent disclosed to his principal that he was representing buyer and to effect a sale at an agreed price satisfactory to his principal who employed him to sell the bonds, there was nothing objectionable in it and it was commonly done by reputable real estate and bond dealers.

SUNDAY HUNTING ILLEGAL

Minnesota Law Also Prohibits Fishing, Other Sports and Shows.

St. Paul, Aug. 22.—Hunting on Sunday is illegal in Minnesota, the state attorney general's office ruled. The opinion was sought because the open season of water fowl, shore birds and prairie chickens opens this year Sunday, Sept. 16.

"The law quoted has been on the statute books for years," said State Game and Fish Commissioner Carlos Avery, "but sportsmen never have felt that it was part of the game regulations and there has never been any demand for its enforcement."

The same law makes fishing on Sunday unlawful. The law is section 4381 of the revised statutes of 1905 and, in addition to Sunday hunting and fishing, prohibits "playing, horse racing, gaming and other public sports, exercises and shows" on the sabbath.

LIVE STOCK BODY FORMED

Practical Steps Will Be Taken to Increase Output.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Creation of a United States live stock industry committee of more than 100 volunteer members to undertake a campaign to increase the nation's meat production was announced by the department of agriculture and the food administration.

The committee will further a plan for the transfer of thousands of head of cattle, sheep and hogs from the big Western producing districts to small farms in Central and Southern states where a great amount of feed goes to waste.

An executive committee, comprising Gifford Pinchot of the food administration; G. H. Rommel of the agriculture department and E. C. Lassater, a Texas stockman, will direct the work of the larger committee.

Washington Irving.

A house in William street, New York, was Irving's birthplace on April 3, 1783. The British were soon to evacuate the city and Washington to take possession of it. Mrs. Irving, a warm hearted woman of English birth and an ardent patriot of the new land, said, "Washington's work is ended, and the child shall be named after him." The child was still in the care of a Scotch nurse when one day she saw the president, as Washington then was, enter a shop, and after him she went. "Please, your honor," she said, "here's a hair named after you." The president laid his hand on the boy's head and gave him a blessing which he never forgot.

Famous Old Time Chateau.

The old chateau of Coucy, France, reduced to a pile of stones by the German destruction, dated from the thirteenth century. In the middle ages it was known as a masterpiece of military architecture. Viollet-le-Duc in 1856 was charged with the restoration of certain walls that threatened to crumble. The famous dungeon was unique in the whole world. The chateau, or rather, one of its towers, formerly served as a prison for the malefactors who infested the neighboring forests. During the reign of Louis XIV, Cardinal Mazarin tried to demolish one of the walls of the chateau, forty feet in thickness, and failed.—New York Times.

MUST EDUCATE OUR PEOPLE ABOUT WAR

Tell Why It Is Necessary to Sacrifice So Many Lives.

KNEW ABOUT OTHER FIGHTS

With Only Limited Means of Communication They Realized Why the Revolution and Civil Wars Were Fought. But Now It Is Necessary to Unlearn to Be Neutral—Support in Congress.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 21.—[Special].—The people of the United States must not only fight the war, pay for the war, but they must be educated up to the necessity for the war.

They must be told the why and wherefore; they must be told why the United States is in the war and why it is necessary to sacrifice more men, more money and sustain more losses than all other wars have entailed upon us.

That is why there is talk about sending forth congressional missionaries; that is why "four minute clubs" have been organized. It has been found necessary to tell the people of the country why they are in this great meliostrom.

Knew About Other Wars.

Even with the limited means of communication of that time our people understood the necessity for the Revolution, the war of 1812, and they knew the causes if not the necessity of the war with Mexico. As to the civil war, we were preparing for it for fifty years.

The slavery question, dividing the country on Mason and Dixon's line; the fierce struggles in congress, the Kansas "jayhawkers" and the Missouri "border ruffians," the various compromises, John Brown's raid and many other things foreshadowed the war between the states, or at least the people understood why they went to war.

As to the Spanish war, sympathy for Cuba had been a part of the American heritage for years, and the desire to add her in her troubles with Spain was an idea firmly implanted in the American heart. We have known why we were in other wars.

This Is Different.

But this war is different. Our people were educated to be neutral, and now they are to take hold of the laboring oar. They have been told to be peaceful and to practice the arts of peace. The peace issue was the dominant factor in the last presidential campaign. It was a part of our politics.

Consequently the recent change has been somewhat bewildering, and a campaign of education may be necessary to make our people feel the necessity for making all the sacrifices, for furnishing men for battlefields and trenches, for paying enormous taxes, for skimping on food and for doing all that is possible to make the war a success.

Supporting the War.

Although there has been shown a great divergence of opinion as to methods, there is no doubt about the great majority in both houses earnestly supporting the war. The votes for men, money and grants of power to those who are carrying on the war are sufficient to prove the determination of congress to push the war to a successful conclusion.

Slim Attendance.

The day the senate met to begin consideration of the revenue bill there were fourteen senators present, equally divided as to party lines. Most of the senators have made up their minds to vote for the revenue bill no matter what it contains, and consequently they do not see the necessity of listening to the debates.

"Above Reproach."

Senator Lewis was making one of those famous speeches—famous on account of the glib manner in which he alluded to the sayings and doings of the ancients and particularly the Romans.

"I presume the senator," interrupted Senator Reed of Missouri, "by contemporaneous authorities with those he has just quoted, could easily demonstrate that slavery is quite justifiable." "The authorities to which I refer," replied Lewis, "and a senator near me asks if they are from the books of James Hamilton Lewis on the two republics, Rome and the United States?" "Mr. President," interrupted Reed, "filtering down through that particular channel, I understand that they would, of course, come to us with a sort of sanctity that would put them above reproach or criticism. So I withdraw my question."

Easy in the Chair.

Vice President Marshall has been absent for some time, and President Pro Tempore Saulsbury has been presiding. He is an easy man in the chair, not so drastic in enforcing the rules as Marshall, nor is he apt to say cutting things from time to time. Nor is he as sure of his rulings at Marshall.

Hardwick's Fear.

Senator Hardwick of Georgia, who opposed the food control bill from start to finish, hesitated about voting to reject the conference report. "If it goes back to conference," he said, "I am afraid that the conferees might find some wrong left undone." It was his opinion that the conferees had made it a worse bill when they were "fixing it up."

Home-Reading Course For Our Citizen-Soldiers

(Issued by the War Department and all rights to reprint reserved)

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and directions. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States Army, to which this Course is merely introductory.

LESSON NO. 8.

MARCHING AND CARE OF FEET.

(PRECEDING LESSONS—1. Your Post of Honor. 2. Making Good as a Soldier. 3. Nine Qualities of a Soldier. 4. Getting Ready for Camp. 5. First Days in Camp. 6. Cleanliness in Camp. 7. Your Health.)

The new soldier seldom understands how important it is for him to learn to march and to develop his muscles so that he can easily carry his arms and equipment. "Marching constitutes the principal occupation of troops in campaign." Infantry Drill Regulations, paragraph 623.) Modern trench warfare in Europe has for the time being reduced the amount of marching required in campaign; yet it remains just as important an element in the soldier's training as it ever was.

In order to march for long distances the soldier's feet must be in good condition. As has been aptly remarked, "the infantryman's feet are his means of transportation." Special attention should be paid to the fitting of shoes for ordinary wear. "Sores and blisters on the feet should be promptly dressed during halts. At the end of the march feet should be bathed and dressed; the socks, and if practicable the shoes, should be changed." (Infantry Drill Regulations, paragraph 627.)

You will learn in time the practical rules for taking care of your feet that are followed by experienced soldiers. You will avoid considerable discomfort, however, if you learn some of these rules now and put them into practice from the very beginning.

1. See that your shoes are large enough. They will at first look and feel unnecessarily loose. This is needed because it has been found that feet swell and lengthen on marches, especially when carrying packs. But shoes fitted this way will give you no corns, bunions, blisters or other foot ills. In fact, they will cure any that you may already have.

2. Take pains to keep your shoes in good condition. It is a good idea to apply a light coat of neat-foot oil, which will both soften the leather and tend to make them waterproof. Don't neglect to smooth out wrinkles in the lining of the shoes. "Break in" new shoes before wearing them on long marches.

3. Wear light woolen socks, such as will be issued to you. See that you have no holes or wrinkles in them. If a hole has been worn and can not be mended at once, change the sock from one foot to the other so that your foot will not be irritated more than is necessary.

4. Keep your feet, socks and shoes clean. When on the march try to wash your socks at night and put on a clean pair every morning. Bathe the feet every evening, or at least wipe them off with a wet towel.

5. Keep your feet scrupulously clean. A foot bath can be taken, when other facilities are not at hand, by scraping a small impression in the ground, throwing a poncho over it and pouring water into this from your canteen. Even a pint of water will do for a foot bath. You can bathe all over by making or finding a depression of suitable size and using your poncho as for a foot bath.

6. Keep your toe nails trimmed closely and cut them square across the ends. This will tend to prevent ingrowing nails. By all means avoid the common error of rounding the corners of the nail and cutting it to a point in the center.

Novelist Playwrights.

John Galsworthy and Horace Vachell both wrote novels long before the theater attracted them. Twenty years ago the successful British dramatist was generally entirely a man of the theater. He had either begun life as an actor, like Sir Arthur Pinero and R. C. Carton, or he had written exclusively for the stage, like Henry Arthur Jones and Haddon Chambers.

More recently the successful playwright has usually begun by being a successful novelist. This is true of Sir James Barrie, Mr. Zangwill and Hall Caine, as well as of Mr. Galsworthy and Mr. Vachell. W. S. Maugham wrote one remarkable novel before he wrote successful plays.

Nature never punished a man for getting his legs tired. She has punished many for getting their nerves exhausted.

7. In case a blister is formed while on the march, open the edge of the blister with the point of a knife or a needle that has been heated in a match flame. Be sure to squeeze all the fluid out of the blister. To leave any in it may make it worse. Do not pull of the loose skin but press it back. Then put on an adhesive plaster, covering the skin well beyond the edges of the blister, putting it on as tightly as possible without wrinkles. In the same way put an adhesive plaster over any red or tender spots.

8. In case any tendons become inflamed or swollen (usually due to lacing the legging or shoe too tightly or to some other unnecessary pressure), soak the foot in cold water, massage the tendon, and protect it as much as possible by strips of adhesive plaster. You should report to a medical officer at your first opportunity to make sure that the trouble does not grow worse.

One sign of a green soldier is his tendency to drink too much water while on a long march. The experienced man gargles his mouth and throat once in a while, but drinks only in sips and does not overload his stomach with either water or food.

After you have arrived in camp and have cooled off you can drink slowly as much as you desire. It is, of course, unwise to eat fruits, candy, soft drinks, ice cream and the like while on the march.

Another sign of a green soldier is a carelessly adjusted pack or any other equipment not neatly and securely fastened. Your comfort on the march depends very largely on the care and judgment used in getting ready. All your equipment has been so designed that it need not interfere with the free movement of your arms and legs. Your pack should be strapped to your back in such a way that you can stand erect and breathe freely. There should be no pressure on any of the soft parts of the body. You will march most easily if you keep your body erect and do not permit yourself to slouch or sway from side to side.

When the command is given to halt and fall out for a few minutes loosen your pack and rest back on it in a sitting and lying position. If possible, lie with your feet higher than the head, so as to let the blood flow out of the legs into the body and rest your heart. During the first few halts you may not feel tired, but rest as completely as you can anyway. Look forward to the end of the march and try to handle yourself so that you will be strong and fresh at the finish.

At the first halt it is well to readjust the pack or any part of the equipment not entirely comfortable. If your shoes or leggings are laced too tightly, this is the time to loosen them.

A cheerful attitude is one of the best aids to a soldier on a trying march. Singing and whistling on the march is usually not only allowed but encouraged. They help wonderfully to make the long road seem shorter.

These are all very simple rules, but none the less important. Keep them in mind. Some men never learn except from their own hard experience; but it is expected of the men in the National Army that they will have the good sense to see the value of these suggestions and to apply them from the very beginning.

"Old Mother Hubbard."

Probably few people could say who wrote "Mother Hubbard," and fewer still know where the writer is buried. The author was Sarah Catherine Martin, and she was buried at Loughton, in Essex, England. Miss Martin was born in January, 1768, and was about thirty-seven years old when she wrote the story of the old lady and her dog. Tradition says the original Old Mother Hubbard was the housekeeper at Kitley Hall, Yealmepton, the residence of Miss Martin's married sister. At any rate, it was when on a visit to her sister at Kitley that the famous rhyme was penned. The original publication is still at Kitley, and a cupboard is pointed out as being "the cupboard."

There are over 500 muscles in the body, all of which should be exercised daily to keep you in the best condition.

VIOLENT RIOTS OCCUR IN SPAIN

Many Persons Killed and Injured at Barcelona.

RIGID CENSORSHIP PREVAILS

Rumors Are in Circulation That a Republic Has Been Proclaimed at Bilbao and Saragossa—All the Liberal Daily Papers Have Been Suppressed.

Barcelona, Spain, Aug. 22.—Violent rioting has been taking place in Barcelona and the neighboring towns since Aug. 13, when a general strike was proclaimed.

Shooting from the roofs of houses and from behind closed shutters has been going on daily. Many persons have been killed and wounded, though no reliable figures are available.

Artillery was brought into action against several buildings, which were strongly held by the rioters, and three houses were destroyed by shell fire.

While these events are going on in Barcelona and in other Catalan towns reports are circulating by word of mouth of great disturbances in other parts of Spain and of a republic being proclaimed at Bilbao and Saragossa.

Rigid Censorship Exercised.

It is impossible to learn the truth regarding these rumors, as a rigid censorship is exercised over the telephone and telegraph lines and the newspapers.

All the Liberal daily newspapers have been suppressed. The only journals appearing in Barcelona are the Vanguardia, which prints only official and inaccurate reports, and the Diagonal, commonly believed to be subsidized by the Germans.

The correspondent heard authoritatively that an armed rising was being prepared for the end of the year by promoters of the recent conference of Catalan deputies in the event of their demands being refused by the Madrid government, but the present outbreak does not appear to be supported by the Catalan leaders, it being confined to discontented workmen.

The army reservists of 1914 and 1915 have been recalled to the colors.

Banish the Roaches.

"Intestinal diseases may be spread by the cockroach," says a physician. "Asiatic cholera organisms have actually been found on them. Gelatin has been inoculated with bacteria by letting the roaches crawl over it. For these reasons, together with the fact that they ruin food, they are among the most serious pests with which hospitals, apartment houses, bakeries, restaurants and hotels have to contend. They travel along water pipes from room to room and in this way spread the organisms."

True Smoke is a "Buy" word

Those who try it, like it; recommend it. That's the secret of True Smoke's popularity. That's how the "Brotherhood of True-Smokers" started 40 years ago. That's why the sales in Minnesota alone were over $100,000 last year. Quality counts, always.

True Smoke is the choicest tobacco from five of America's finest tobacco-growing states. It's all tobacco; pure tobacco; expertly blended tobacco, with bite and parch removed.

Next time you buy try True Smoke—for chewing or smoking. It's the most satisfying combination you can get.

True Smoke is sold in 10c flat or round bags and in 50c fiber containers. If you can't get it from your dealer, send us his name and address with 10c and we will see that you are supplied—at once.

PUBLIC MARKET FOR BRAINERD

To be Discussed at Meeting of Chamber of Commerce at 8:30 o'clock This Evening

POTATO WAREHOUSE UP TOO

Suggested that an Outside Commission House be Urged to Establish Warehouse in City

The matter of a public market for Brainerd will be discussed and decided upon at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at 8:30 this evening, following the meeting of the advisory board at 7:30 and it is vitally important that business men, city officials and all interested in bringing Brainerd to the fore as a market place for a wide territory are present at the meeting.

Committee Ready

The special committee on public market, met last evening, reviewed considerable data and considered the plan outlined by the chairman for a retail market here. This committee will be ready to report tonight and it is expected that the advisory board and Chamber will take prompt action on their recommendations, as it is high time that the market be established, if at all, this fall.

Warehouse Talk

The matter of a potato warehouse will be generally discussed and it is probable that some sort of recommendations will be made regarding this.

It has been suggested that some reliable outside commission house be invited to establish a warehouse here and engage in the purchase of farm produce on a large scale, business men and farmers to lend their support to the same by listing their produce for shipment and encouraging the company in building up a permanent and self-supporting business.

Retail Market

The retail market plan has nothing to do with this latter plan, although it is suggested that beginning modestly, it can be encouraged and grow into a general market for handling produce on a large scale. The details of the plan suggested will be discussed tonight and other important matters require the presence of every public spirited man of affairs, city officials and members of the chamber.

ROLL OF HONOR

Chester Darling and Myron Bunnell of the Duluth News Tribune have been called for physical examination. Mr. Darling is a former Brainerd boy who has made good as assistant circulation manager of the Duluth morning daily.

CLEANING UP PREMISES

Sanitary Policeman E. E. Koecher is Busy, More Notices are Served

B. E. Koecher, sanitary policeman, has under way an active campaign for the cleaning up of unsightly and insanitary piles of rubbish, offal, garbage, manure, etc.

A. H. Enemark, 1405 East Norwood, in municipal court on the charge of violating city ordinances and not keeping his premises clean, paid a $5 fine and promised to clean up in 24 hours.

CUT BY SCYTHE

Brainerd Man on Wheel Carrying Scythe Collides With Another Bicycle

Seyvern Antonson of West Brainerd, riding a wheel and carrying a scythe, was in collision with another bicycle rider shortly after leaving the shops. Antonson's wrist was slashed by the scythe, and an artery cut. He was rushed to the railway hospital for treatment.

ASK FOR BIDS

Bids are invited for a suitable building in a suitable location with proper surroundings, for public market purposes. Price must be low for four to eight months or a sufficient time in which to try out any plan that the Chamber of Commerce may adopt at their meeting Wednesday at 8 P. M., Aug. 22. Address P. B. Nettleton, chairman, by phone or otherwise, up to 6 P. M. Wednesday, Aug. 22nd.

Has Recovered Her Health

So many women suffer from similar afflictions that this testimonial from Mrs. Laura Beall, Plattsburg, Miss., will be read with interest. "I got in bad health. My left side hurt all the time. I took doctor's medicine, but it did me no good. I took two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and I feel all right now." H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Adv.

BAND CONCERT AT DEPOT PARK

The Brainerd City band will be heard tonight at the depot park. Most of the music to be played abounds with life and ginger. Next week at the regular band concert Mrs. Clyde E. Parker will put on two local talent dance numbers and Mr. Bergh will have 500 school children sing patriotic songs. A collection will be taken at that time for the Red Cross. Details will be printed later.

READING ROOM GROWING

Chamber of Commerce List of Publications Being Added to Constantly. Service is Enjoyed

The reading room of the Chamber of Commerce is being steadily added to and the list of publications now embrace a majority of those in general demand by the reading public.

There are now thirty periodicals, four daily papers and five weekly papers being received regularly at the Chamber of Commerce as follows: Sparks, American Motorist; Town Development; Cosmopolitan; Colliers Weekly; Outer's Magazine; The Outlook; the American; Country Life in America; Farm, Stock and Home; Commercial America; Eagle Magazine; Minnesota Municipalities; the New Age; Scientific American; The North Woods and Wild Life; The Literary Digest; Ginger; The Red Book; Review of Reviews; American City; National Geographic Magazine; Current Opinion; Saturday Evening Post; Physical Culture; The World's Work; Everybody's Magazine; System; Northland Farmer; and The Farmer.

Daily papers—Brainerd Daily Dispatch; Minneapolis Journal; Saint Paul Pioneer Press; Duluth News Tribune. Weekly papers—Brainerd Tribune, Brainerd Journal Press, Deerwood Times, Crosby Crucible, and the Pine River Sentinel Blade.

"The Accomplice"

"The Accomplice" tells in an unusually engrossing manner of the night life of New York's Smart Set. A brother and a sister have too much time and money and too little parental attention. The girl drifts into the Tango Tea set, and finally becomes involved with a professional dancer. The boy is brought to a realization of his wasteful life, however, by his father's secretary, with whom he is in love. The father will not hear of his son's marrying a working girl, however. At this time, the police discover, in seeking the murderer of the dancer's professional partner, that the girl had spent the night in his apartment. To save the boy the agony of knowing this, and to prove to the father that she is not merely self-seeking, the secretary claims that it was she who spent the night with the dancer.

How this tangle is finally unwound and happiness and a truer realization of life is brought to the young people is the basis of one of the most interesting photoplays ever produced. At the Best theatre tonight.

BIDS WANTED

Sealed proposals marked "Bids for Paving," will be received by the undersigned up to 8 o'clock P. M. Sept. 4th, 1917, for the paving with concrete the intersection of 9th and Fir streets. Plans and specifications may be seen at the city engineer's office.

City Engineer.

BRAINERD MAN GIVES EVIDENCE

His Testimony Will Interest Every Brainerd Reader

The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can prove it for ourselves. There has been plenty of such evidence in the Brainerd papers lately, and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of Brainerd people that will not be easily shaken.

William Bourquin, carpenter, 913 Seventh St., Brainerd, says: "I suffered severely from kidney and bladder trouble. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and I had backaches and pains through my sides and loins. The trouble kept me from working and gave me no end of annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills soon relieved me in every way."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Bourquin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

The average married man doesn't realize what he is missing unless he counts the change in his pockets night and morning.

BIGGEST TAX SETTLEMENT

The biggest tax settlement in the history of Crow Wing county is the July settlement carrying $356,443.76 of which $336,125.12 is current taxes and $20,318.64 delinquent taxes. The county auditor is now apportioning it to the various funds.

DULUTH BOND DEALER GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

amination showed that he was thoroughly experienced in bond matters and familiar with all customs and methods employed in that business.

J. A. Duffy, president of the Farmers National bank of Red Lake Falls, was on the stand Wednesday forenoon and testified in direct and cross-examination explaining how the $765,000 bond transactions were handled by George A. Elder and himself as agents for Koochiching county on a six per cent commission basis.

Out of the six per cent commission it was expected that Elder would have to divide with other bond houses, five per cent to others and one per cent to Elder and himself. It was made in the utmost good faith and he explained how it was handled by the county board and was so carried out in entire good faith.

Some thirty years ago Duffy was a telegraph operator in Brainerd and later for thirteen years was station agent at Red Lake Falls. He had lived in Red Lake Falls thirty years. The defense may consume another day and closing arguments may be made late Thursday or early Friday morning.

Wilson is Now Framing Reply to the Pope

(By United Press)

Washington, August 22.—President Wilson has now turned his attention to framing a reply to the pope which will probably be ready for his cabinet on Friday and will be on the way to the pope on Sunday. Chancellor Michaelis' comments will have no effect on the reply to be made, and regardless whether the pope's document was inspired by Austria or advanced purely as a neutral proposal it does not touch the fundamental principles America is fighting for.

NO TIME TO TALK OF PEACE TERMS

And There's No Necessity of Explaining Our Position.

ALL FACTS ARE QUITE PLAIN

Demand on the Part of Some Senators
For Declaration of Our Aims, to Arouse Enthusiasm and Patriotism,
Will Not Be Heeded—Germany May
Construe It as a Peace Bid.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 22.—[Special.]—Quite often of late it has been asserted that the people do not know why we are in the great war and in order to arouse them to a proper pitch of enthusiasm there ought to be a declaration, either by congress or the president, defining the objects in view.

That might have been proper at the beginning, but it is not now. To state what this country intends would be taken as terms of peace. Suppose Germany should reply that she accepted the terms of the United States. What an embarrassing position it might be for us on account of our relations with the entente allies!

It is not expected that the administration will heed the demand for a statement in relation to the objects of the war, and certainly congress is not going to take any action in that direction.

Facts Are Quite Plain.

Upon the demands of the United States Germany desisted from her ruthless methods of submarine warfare to the extent of letting passengers and crews of vessels seek safety and not sinking vessels without warning.

After a time—when Germany had built a large number of additional submarines—she announced that her agreement with this government was at an end and marked out a lane in the ocean which American ships might travel, limited the number of ships that might sail to English ports and specified what they might carry.

That position of Germany brought on a state of war between the United States and the German government.

Must Go to a Finish.

And, war having commenced, it must go to a finish without any intermediate negotiations or talk of terms upon which it will end. We have found it expensive—much more expensive than it would have been to comply with the terms Germany set forth as a condition upon which our ships might sail the highway of the ocean—but, whatever may be the cost, our people are going to see it through. And one thing will be established beyond question—that American ships can sail the seas and carry cargoes without the consent of any other government.

Sept. 30, Says Simmons.

It may be more of a hope than a conviction, but Chairman Simmons of the finance committee says that congress will adjourn Sept. 30. By that time he expects to have the revenue bill passed and signed, and the war appropriations will also be out of the way. Other senators are not quite so optimistic.

Taking a Bold Stand.

Senators representing states where the I. W. W.'s are most active are taking a bold stand in opposition to the methods of that organization. Nearly every western senator has severely condemned the operations of this organization, and some have gone so far as to criticize their state governments for not acting in a manner to insure law and order instead of appealing to the federal government for assistance.

Whom He Meant.

Said Senator Vardaman of Mississippi one day in the senate, "I want to say that I am nauseated with this pharisaical noise that we hear upon the floor of the senate too often that somebody or some senator is withholding from the president the support which he should have to bring this war to a successful conclusion."

Vardaman said more to the same effect, but did not mention names. Everybody knew, however, that he meant John Sharp Williams, his colleague. Williams and Vardaman never speak. Neither recognizes that the other is a member of the senate. But occasional digs like the above quotation show that each knows how to land on the other when there is an opportunity.

The Senate Tittered.

Senator Penrose wanted to speak on the revenue bill, but Senator Reed got ahead of him and began to talk on his favorite topic—Hoover. Penrose inquired if the Missouri senator was going to talk on the revenue bill. Reed responded, "I will be brief."

"The senator always is," remarked Penrose.

And a titter went around the senate, for Reed has the reputation of talking often and long, especially about Hoover and food control.

BE CHEERFUL.

Strive at all times to be cheerful. What a subtle kind of heartache we give others by simply not being at our best and highest, when they have to make allowances for us, when the dark side is uppermost in our minds and we take their sunlight and courage away by even our unspoken thoughts, our atmosphere of heaviness! Oh, to stand always and eternally for sunlight and life and cheer!

RUMORS DISTURB FARMERS

North Dakotans Fear Low Price Will Be Set on Wheat.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 22.—That North Dakota farmers will fight for a higher wheat price, if a rate of less than at least $2.25 is set by the government, was shown in protests sent to Washington by wheat growers in many sections of the state. Many farmers demand $2.50 and $3 and at an unconfirmed report from Washington that Herbert C. Hoover, food administrator, was thinking of a price of $1.65 they are talking of a "wheat strike" or refusing to plant wheat next year. Fargo commercial organizations received word from Congressman George M. Young that he believed Hoover "in his mind" had decided on a price of $1.65. This set the farmers going and in spite of the fact that Washington dispatches assert the price will be $2 or more, farmers and commercial clubs began wiring protests to Young.

PRICES OF SOFT COAL ARE FIXED

President Makes Schedule Covering All Mines.

WILL SOON NAME DIRECTOR

Next Step in Fuel Control Will Be to Fix Prices to Be Charged by Middlemen and Retailers—Divides Country Into Twenty-nine Districts.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Bituminous coal prices have been fixed by President Wilson for every mine in the United States.

The next step in coal control, a White House announcement said, will be to fix the prices to be charged by middlemen and retailers.

Prices were set on cost of production estimates furnished by the federal trade commission after months of exhaustive investigation.

The country is divided into twenty-nine districts and every producer in a district will market his output at the same price.

The president named no agency to carry out the provisions of his order, but is expected to appoint soon a coal administrator who will be given entire control of the coal industry.

Rumor named President H. A. Garfield of Williams college as the man.

Mr. Garfield now heads a committee named by the president to fix a government price for wheat. His work will end before Sept. 1, when the wheat committee probably will be dissolved.

The prices named for run of mine coal in the large producing districts average slightly more than $2. In a few districts they are below that figure and in the western territory they are higher. Washington state is highest with $3.25.

SENDS OUT OPEN LETTER

American Defense Society Fears Pro-German Activities.

Washington, Aug. 22.—That German atrocities "now may be expected to be practiced upon Americans" is a warning contained in an open letter to the American people from the American Defense society.

"In the preparation for such uncivilized warfare the German nation today is mobilized to the last man and woman. If America is to win this war and is to be saved from the horrors suffered by Belgium and France, America must mobilize, not only at the front, but at home as well," says the letter.

"The task of conducting the war is already hindered by a tide of traitorous activities, financed and directed by agents of the Imperial German government. Until within a few days their agents were able, through German marine insurance companies, to get complete information of all material shipped from American ports. The war plants of this country are still open to the inspection of German insurance companies."

JOINT GOVERNMENT OF ALLIES URGED

Washington, Aug. 22.—Senator Owen of Oklahoma offered a resolution in the senate calling on the allies to inaugurate an "international government" to do away with the Teutonic autocracy to the end that war will be abolished.

The resolution contemplates an international force to replace the armaments of "Teutonic military conspiracy." This force would police the world as against Prussian aggression.

It seeks to have congress go on record as of the opinion that "no reliance should be placed upon the vague suggestions of peace by the Teutonic military autocracy, but that their obscure proposals should be ranged as a military ruse."

ARREST DRAFT OPPONENTS

Federal Officials Take Fifteen Germans Into Custody.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 22.—Fifteen Germans were arrested at Tripp, Hutchinson county, by federal officials, charged with violation of the espionage act. The men were taken to Yankton, and arraigned before United States Commissioner E. T. White for a preliminary hearing. Officials refused to divulge the exact nature of the complaint filed against the men. However, it is understood that they signed a petition to the county treasurer protesting against the draft. On Aug. 14 fifteen other Germans, Socialists, were arrested in Hutchinson county by federal officers for a similar offense.

BOUGHT BY WHITE SOX.

Howard and Dysert, Hagerstown Stars, to Go to Big Show.

A deal was closed by the Hagerstown (Md.) Baseball association for the sale of Earl Howard, pitcher, and Charles Dysert, right fielder on the Hagerstown team in the Blue Ridge league, to the Chicago White Sox. The purchase was made by Scout Ted Sullivan. Sullivan said that he considered Howard and Dysert the stars of this league.

Howard has made a great record this season and leads the league in pitching. Dysert not only is leading in batting, but his sensational fielding has aided the Hagerstown club in winning many games. Howard and Dysert became the property of Chicago after the close of the Blue Ridge season. The purchase price was not made public.

WHEN A BATTER SWINGS.

It All Depends on Who's Pitching, Says Ty Cobb.

You can take the word of Ty Cobb about batting. He ought to know, for he has led his league so often that without the name of Cobb at the top it would not look like a batting list. "When does a batter swing at the ball?" Cobb was asked, and here is the reply of the Dixie athlete:

"Well, if it's Eddie Plank, and he's out there twitching about, kicking up the dirt with his feet, yanking up his belt and pulling down his bat, you hit when he gets ready to throw."

"If Walter Johnson is pitching you had better start to swing your bat about the time that Henry or Al Smith throws the ball back to the pitcher. If you hit fast enough you ought to connect—that is, if your bat is on the level with the ball."

"I would say that a batter cuts at the pitch when the ball is fifteen feet away in front of him. Twenty feet if it is Johnson, Bush or Coombs when he was right. A batter can be hit when it comes up, and I guess you allow about six feet leeway on a slow ball. You take a quick cut at a curve."

Going to Land Him.

"He was engaged three times before he proposed to her!"

"Yes."

"And she accepted him?"

"Yes, but she's insisting on an immediate marriage. Profiting by the experience of the other girls she isn't going to take any chance on his breaking another engagement."—Detroit Free Press.
